

Incident Support Services

Chapel - First Call & Repatriation Services UK.

Is more than just a transportation service. We can be tasked to carry out more specialised duties anywhere in the United Kingdom.

Whether it's carrying out the removals on behalf of the Coroner, or carrying out specialised transfer of remains in whole, part, or skeletal for any reason. All under extremely controlled and meticulously planned conditions providing discreet professional transportation at all times.

We can be called upon to provide specialist transport support at exhumations, using the right equipment to remove the remains to a place of examination.

Fatality Retrieval Services

We have researched a new service, Fatality Retrieval Service (FRS).

This services is aimed at the emergency services and armed forces. We can provide fully equipped mortuary ambulance vehicles to aid in the recovery and transportation to a designated mortuary or specialist examination facility at any location.

This service can be used in a variety of incidents from fatal road, rail, and water incidents through to major incidents and accidents. We carry a vast range of specialist handling equipment for carrying bodies in whole or part, in a dignified and secure manner at all times and because we use disaster grade body pouches with fully sealable and tamper proof seals you can be sure of complete continuity of the remains whilst in transit.

We carry a host of staff protective equipment all to disaster levels including heavy duty hooded protective oversuits, overshoes and high density face masks, FRS emblazoned reflective hard helmets, reflective all weather coats all emblazoned with the FRS wording. Comprehensive bio-hazard fluid spill kits, and first aid kits.

Our vehicles are all fitted with covert but high intensity L.E.D warning lighting giving 'static' protection at high risk scenes, yet not visible when not in use giving the appearance of a standard estate vehicle, this gives our teams the ability to be at a standby point without drawing too much attention to ourselves or the incident.
